We can say more about our commitment to fix this. Rich, please help them with this. I also heard Paul Peronard is talking to media today and Penn Mine and that needs to be under control. What time is the Penn Mine event? Joan

Joan

Are you ok with or superfund field staff (RPMs, CICs) who are out doing other regional work using the following statement and referral to the website if they get questions on the Gold King response? As I mentioned yesterday there are several Remedial meetings in the next week and we have RPMs in the field who may be getting questions.

Let me know. Thanks.

Sandy

Statement for EPA personnel conducting work related to Superfund or mines, who may receive questions about the Gold King Mine Release:

Information on the Gold King Mine Release can be found on our website:

<http://www2.epa.gov/region8/gold-king-mine-release-emergency-response>

EPA is working to understand what happened in this event, learn from it, and apply any lessons we need to apply.

(The new website doesn't appear to be up and running yet, but once it is, folks will be redirected from the current one to the new one).
